

*Milan
Moments*

It's no surprise that he began his career as an architect: the startlingly precise work of Gianfranco Ferré left a legacy far beyond the white blouse he revolutionized. With new designers installed at his maison, The Daily Milan sat down with Ferré's niece, Mrs. Rita Airaghi, at the Fondazione Ferré to comb through the most iconic images from his storied career.

THE
magic
OF
ferré

1995

Christy Turlington in a Ferré advertisement.

Milan
Moments

1978

*Jerry Hall on the runway
at the very first Ferré show.*

1981

Milan Moments

1985

Herb Ritts' photograph from an advertising campaign.

1992

Linda Evangelista in a Ferré
advertisement photographed
by Steven Meisel.

Mr. Ferré with Valentino Garavani.

1993

An iconic white shirt from the Fall collection: sketched by Gianfranco Ferré and modeled by Helena Christensen.

1998

2001

Stella Tennant, above, in another iconic take on the white blouse; Mariacarla Boscono, right, shows off the house's signature embroidery.

2005